Dear colleagues, dear friends,

I am proud of having the honour to invite you all to the 17th EMN Congress in Cluj-Napoca. Being the 17th scientific meeting of this kind is a clear sign for a worthwhile and sustainable tradition, with a remarkable activity of all its members.

Last year in Newcastle, we confirmed and identified our aims: progress in research, teaching and practical application of our society. We opened EMN for young and interested people.

In 2004, the 9th Scientific EMN Congress took also place in Romania, in Bucharest. This congress included a workshop on the quality of life after Neurotrauma.

Here, in Romania, in Cluj-Napoca, we want to close the loop and tie with the topic assessment of quality of life. Moreover we want to continue and show perspectives.

For me as EMN President it is a great pleasure to welcome you to the 17th EMN meeting in Cluj-Napoca and I would like to thank the organizers of this meeting, especially our friend, General Secretary and active member Stefan Florian, who have put so much effort and commitment for a successful event.

I am looking forward to seeing you all.

Prof. Dr. Wolf-Ingo Steudel
EMN President
